

The project parameters for production simulation this fall:

We will choose up to 3 projects for the quarter. The students will get to choose what they want to work on for the simulation (along with some guidance from the faculty).

Project ideas may be submitted with the following criteria:

- > Can be any form (short, webisode, music video, etc)
- > No more than 12 pages total
- > Script must be original or adapted from a property already in the public domain

A draft of the project must be completed to submit on the first day of class. There will be one week for rewrites to lock the script. No rewrites will be done after the 3rd class.

I will provide additional scripts to choose from in the event there are no submissions or the ideas submitted are not locked by the third class session.
