REPORTING OF COMPLETION RATE

The graduation rates reported in the School Performance Fact Sheet were developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics, to be used for the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), Graduation Rate Survey. These national standardized rates were devised so that graduation rates could be compared across institutions.

The graduation rate tracks a cohort of students (defined as new-entering, full-time, first-time, degree-seeking) from their time of initial enrollment in an institution until they complete a bachelor's degree at the same institution.

Graduation rates are influenced by a variety of factors. Students who transfer in or transfer out of an institution are not included in the graduation rate. Students who start full-time, and are included in the initial tracking cohort, may subsequently enroll part-time, prolonging their time to completion.

REPORTING OF PLACEMENT RATE

The job placement rate, calculated by dividing the number of graduates employed in the field by the number of graduates available for employment for each program.
